

The risks of “safe” investments

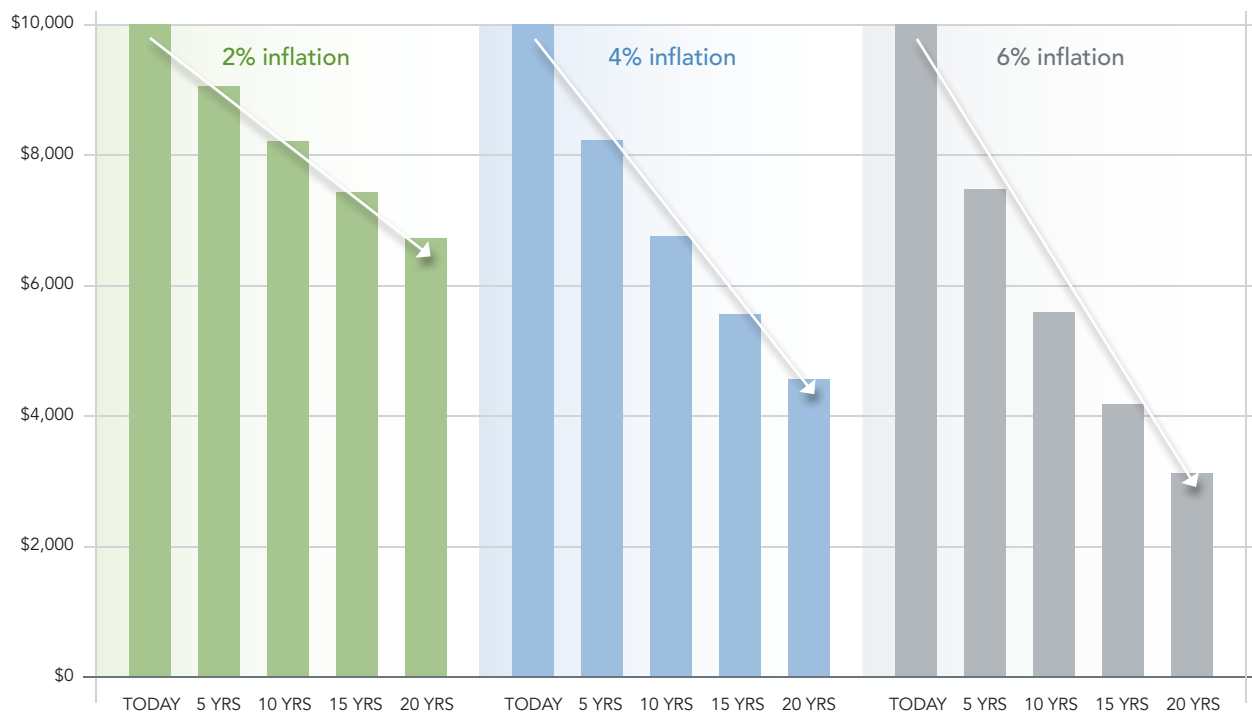

When calculating your investment goals, you should always factor in inflation. Although inflation is currently low, the future holds no guarantees – and even low rates can eat away at your savings.

The risk of inflation is one reason so-called “safe” investments such as GICs may not be so safe after all. Often they have low returns, so on their own they may not generate enough to meet your goals, once the increased cost of living is factored in.

Consider diversifying your portfolio with equities for better growth potential, to offset the impact of inflation.

Erosion of purchasing power

The chart illustrates the effect of inflation on $10,000. Even at the relatively low rate of 2%, $10,000 shrinks to $6,729 of purchasing power in 20 years.

Source: Fidelity Investments Canada ULC.

For more information, ask your advisor or visit fidelity.ca

Commissions, trailing commissions, management fees and expenses all may be associated with mutual fund investments. Please read the prospectus, which contains detailed investment information, before investing. Mutual funds are not guaranteed, their values change frequently and past performance may not be repeated.

© 2019 Fidelity Investments Canada ULC. All rights reserved. Third-party trademarks are the property of their respective owners. All other trademarks are the property of Fidelity Investments Canada ULC.